

Matt Dines

Matt grew up in Los Angeles, and has been back in his hometown for the past 12 years. Six years ago, he fell in love and moved to Beachwood Canyon, where he helped form a neighborhood watch in his little pocket of northeast Beachwood Canyon. Gathering a bunch of neighbors, they created a tight knit community of friends who support each other no matter what.

Matt has worked in the entertainment industry for the past 12 years, first at Spyglass Entertainment, then MGM, and now Paramount. He is an executive vice president of development and production in the new Paramount Players Film Division.

Eda Godel Hallinan

I have been lucky enough to live on the same property below the Village for 64 years. I attended Chermoya, LeConte and Hollywood High School. I've worked ABC, Disney and Paramount as a development exec. Having lived in San Francisco, Berkeley and New York for years, the Canyon is always home.

However, for our Beachwood Canyon, I feel there are serious, but solvable issues in our canyon. I think we can balance the needs of the community, hikers, tourists and guests while keeping our community safe and our businesses healthy.

Missy is currently the president of BCNA and has been a director for 10 years. Her passion is focus on quality of life issues for Beachwood Canyon residents. She spends her time doing personal tasks for various neighbors that are not able to fend for themselves. Not only loyal to the Canyon, she is loyal to all those who need personal assistance in any way.
